Affidavit of Kayla Orsell Regarding Coordinated Criminal Activity Under RICO Statutes

I, Kayla Orsell, submit this affidavit to document and formally report an ongoing pattern of organized criminal activity involving members of my immediate and extended family, law enforcement personnel, and possible government agency insiders. I believe the scope, coordination, and persistence of these activities meet the criteria established under the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act (RICO), codified at 18 U.S.C. §§ 1961–1968.

I. Mail Tampering and Communication Interference

My legal and personal mail has been consistently tampered with, delayed, or unlawfully intercepted. I have hard evidence and firsthand experience indicating that my stepbrother, John Valik, who is employed by the United States Postal Service, is directly involved. Despite his listed income being 38% below average for a postal worker, John Valik—age 37—has recently appeared on public property records as the owner of at least seven high-value properties along Lake Shore Road. These properties are listed under various names including John M. Valik, John C. Valik, and versions with or without the suffix "Jr." These name variations appear across different deeds and listings for the same or closely located properties.

Online background check platforms reveal conflicting age data tied to these names—showing ages of 37 (John's actual age), 59 (the age of my stepmother), and 64 (the age of my father). These identity inconsistencies suggest deliberate obfuscation or misuse of records to conceal the scope of property holdings and financial dealings.

II. Interference with Legal Proceedings

I filed a 28 U.S.C. § 2241 habeas corpus petition in the Northern District of New York (Orsell v. Spychalski et al.) on or around November 13, 2024. I also submitted a formal grievance to the NY State Attorney General. I now have credible reason to believe that neither of these communications reached their intended recipients. I received a response from the AG’s office suggesting misconduct was acknowledged but not pursued—yet I believe that reply may have been falsified or intercepted. My electronic communications were compromised by targeted cyberattacks that prevented me from sending or receiving critical legal documents, emails, and court filings.

III. Identity Misuse and Genetic Evidence

In March 2025, I submitted a DNA sample to MyHeritage. The analysis returned a 99.4% identical match to what appeared to be myself or a twin. Further investigation of the raw DNA file revealed the presence of more than 3,000 Y chromosomes—indicating the sample was male. The family matches returned included names linked by background check data to my stepbrother and stepmother. This supports my longstanding suspicion that my true identity and family origins were concealed or manipulated.

IV. Physical and Psychological Abuse

Throughout my childhood, I was subjected to coercion and abuse. I was introduced to illegal drugs by my father at age 16 and used to assist in growing marijuana as young as 5 years old. At age 12, I suffered a severe leg injury and was left in the road screaming in pain. When help arrived, my father forcibly bent my broken leg, worsening the injury. I was denied prompt medical care and made to crawl up stairs using my arms.

As an adult, my housing and safety were repeatedly threatened when I attempted to speak out. My father padlocked my only exit, disabled my vehicles, and coerced me—via threats of homelessness—into accepting a false plea deal when I wished to go to trial.

V. Pattern of Conduct and Coordination

The activities described above are not isolated events. They represent a coordinated pattern of conduct that includes:

- Mail and communications fraud
- Property and identity fraud
- Interference with the courts
- Physical and psychological abuse
- Cyber sabotage
- Possible involvement of public officials and misuse of government positions

Conclusion:

These acts constitute an ongoing criminal enterprise under 18 U.S.C. § 1961(1)(B) and § 1962, specifically involving obstruction of justice, mail fraud, wire fraud, and identity fraud—all predicate offenses under the RICO Act.

I am submitting this affidavit in the interest of justice and request that it be reviewed by an appropriate agency with jurisdiction to investigate and intervene. I am prepared to provide physical evidence, digital files, legal documentation, and sworn statements in support of this affidavit.

Respectfully submitted,

Kayla Orsell

AFFIDAVIT IN SUPPORT OF 440.10 MOTION

) ss.:

COUNTY OF FULTON)

I, Kayla Leigh Orsell, being duly sworn, depose and say:

1. I am the Defendant in the above-captioned matter and submit this Affidavit in support of my motion to vacate the judgment of conviction entered on February 18, 2025, pursuant to CPL § 440.10. I submit this Affidavit both on grounds of newly discovered evidence (CPL § 440.10(1)(g)) and to detail continued and previously undiscoverable constitutional violations. I have personal knowledge of the facts stated herein, except where indicated otherwise.

2. Newly Discovered Evidence

a. DNA File Tampering and Identity Misuse

- In May 2025, I obtained and forensically analyzed my raw DNA data file downloaded from MyHeritage. The file revealed the presence of 3,495 Y-chromosome single nucleotide polymorphisms (SNPs), including 331 valid genotypes, despite my biological sex being female. This is biologically inconsistent and strongly indicates that the DNA file processed under my account was not from my actual sample, but rather substituted or tampered with—potentially by someone with access to my mail or digital data.

- The file's metadata confirmed a generation date of May 16, 2025, format
- MHv1.0, and chip type GSA, with no duplicated RSIDs or structural anomalies. (See Exhibit L)
- A second MyHeritage profile appeared under the exact name "Kayla Orsell" and displayed a 99.4% DNA match with my profile, sharing extensive full-length DNA segments across nearly all chromosomes.
    - This level of genetic overlap is consistent with a re-uploaded or cloned raw DNA file rather than a biological match. I have never submitted more than one DNA test to MyHeritage, and this duplicate profile was not authorized by me. These findings confirm that my DNA data was either fraudulently reused, impersonated, or cloned and uploaded under a second account without my consent. (See Exhibit M) iv. This evidence was entirely unavailable to me before my conviction and directly undermines the legitimacy of any genetic claims used to corroborate false familial associations or legal identity. The DNA tampering was discovered only after conducting forensic analysis on both the raw file and segment-sharing reports, which I had no reasonable access to or ability to interpret prior to 2025.

b. Postal Service Tampering:

- I discovered that USPS Certified Mail cards used by the Northern District of New York Court to serve me lacked valid tracking numbers, date stamps, and legible recipient signatures, with postal employees allegedly signing mail addressed to me on my step-mothers behalf, undermining notice of critical filings. (See Exhibit I)
- My DNA kit envelope was returned marked "Not Enough Postage" despite correct postage and remained in a shared mailbox accessible by family members for over 24 hours, indicating deliberate interference with delivery of evidence.

c. Suspicious Vehicle Accident and Tampering

- On October 15, 2024, my car was involved in a motor vehicle accident that I now believe may have been deliberately orchestrated or exploited by individuals seeking to interfere with my legal proceedings and personal safety. The vehicle I call mine was titled to my father, Victor Orsell, but I was its primary operator. He maintained control of the title and insurance, despite my consistent use and financial responsibility for the vehicle.
- Immediately following the crash, my father and grandfather appeared at the scene within minutes—despite not being notified by me or emergency services. Their unexpected and rapid arrival, combined with their aggressive behavior toward my injured partner (Caderon Tyrrell), raised serious concerns. My stepmother later made a disturbing comment suggesting that "if I had been in the passenger seat, I would have died," further fueling my suspicions of foul play.

- My father had been urging me not to file a habeas corpus motion starting by lying to me that an attorney he called said that habeas corpus was only for post-conviction. When I told him he was wrong, and I was going to file it anyways he immediately fired my public defender Kyle Davis and hired attorney James Melita who continued to try to stop me from filing.
- Crucially, several key items from the vehicle were missing after the incident, including a cell phone that contained critical legal documents and communications related to my habeas petition. That phone had also shown signs of remote access prior to the accident, such as changes to email and file access logs that I did not initiate. Additionally, a bouquet of flowers that Caderon bought me while he was out, was missing, indicating that someone accessed the vehicle between the time of the crash and its impoundment.
- The missing phone contained the only stored copies of specific communications and images that documented misconduct and digital interference. I believe that the phone was removed to destroy evidence, and my government benefit SIM was cloned prior to the crash in order to monitor my legal communications and undermine my claims.
- This event fits within a broader pattern of intimidation, digital surveillance, and family interference. It occurred during a period when I was actively preparing legal motions, including my habeas corpus petition, and raises serious questions about whether this accident was coincidental or part of a coordinated effort to obstruct justice and suppress evidence.

3. I have experienced signs of a sophisticated cyber-attack which coincided directly with my false arrest and malicious prosecution and is still ongoing and active.
4. I believe that this cyber-attack was designed to obstruct legal communication, intercept filings, and surveil personal activity.

The following details summarize the technical anomalies and suspicious events reported:

a. Duplicate WiFi SSIDs were detected matching my 5G and 2G home networks, fluctuating in signal strength. This indicates the presence of a rogue access point or WiFi Evil Twin attack.
b. A device labeled 'Lynn's Firestick' appeared in my WiFi Direct menu with full-strength signal, despite her stepmother living at a distance. This suggests a hidden, nearby device used to eavesdrop or spoof a legitimate smart device.
c. I discovered my own legal documents had been stored on my stepmother, Lynn Orsell's, old phone, later given to my boyfriend Caderon Tyrrell, indicating unauthorized cloud access or device cloning.
d. I only found out my habeas case was filed because of a random Google search. I received no Notice of Electronic Filing (NEF).
e. When initially searching the PACER system using party names, the system returned no result. Later, documents appeared identical to those posted on PacerMonitor, a third-party site that accepts user-submitted content and supports API keys.

f. I suspect DNS spoofing, MITM attacks, or packet interception altered what I could see on official court and PACER websites.

g. The suspicious presence of network devices and inconsistent visibility of my legal docket, combined with missing court notifications, show symptoms of network-level MITM (man-in-the-middle) attack, possibly involving local interference or routing manipulation.

h. My government benefit cellular phone showed its location to match the longitude and latitude of The Gloversville City Courthouse. (See Exhibit X inside the amendment document Exhibit F)

5. Discrepancies in Habeas Corpus Court Documents and Website Integrity

- Upon locating my habeas corpus case docket on the Northern District of New York (NDNY) court website, I observed multiple anomalies suggesting tampering or spoofing of official records. The documents filed as Docket Entries 3 and 4—titled "Memorandum-Decision and Order" and "Judgment"—lack several indicators typical of legitimate federal court documents. (See Exhibits G and H)
- First, these documents do not contain an embossed or printed seal of the court, which is standard on certified decisions, especially when used as a basis for initiating the appeal period. They are also missing Clerk of Court certification and were not accompanied by any Notice of Electronic Filing (NEF), which is required when parties are served electronically.

- Second, while these documents do include CM/ECF headers, there are irregularities in the formatting and lack of accompanying electronic service records. Additionally, the certified mail return receipts used to prove physical service were not signed by the recipient listed.
- My father, Victor Orsell, admitted that Lynn Orsell—the named signatory—did not sign the cards. He stated a postal worker signed on her behalf, which directly undermines the validity of service under FRCP 77(d) and due process principles.
- The return slips did not contain any official USPS postmark, round-date stamp, or tracking barcode, which is typical for authenticated certified mail.
- In addition to the discrepancies mentioned above, the slips are missing:
    - Date of delivery,
    - Printed name of recipient,
    - Clear address or tracking confirmation.
- Further raising concern, when visiting the NDNY court website (www.nynd.uscourts.gov), I noted that it does not display the standard banner used by federal .gov websites stating, "An official website of the United States government." This absence, combined with inconsistent security certificate indicators (the site shows as using TSL rather than SSL), suggests the possibility that the site may have been spoofed or intercepted during my access attempt.
- These technical inconsistencies, when viewed in conjunction with unauthorized access to my legal documents, forged postal records, and earlier cyber interference on my network, form a compelling pattern of digital and procedural manipulation. I believe this conduct was designed to suppress or falsify court records and obstruct my right to meaningful review of my habeas petition.

5. Ineffective Assistance of Counsel and Coercion:

- During plea discussions, counsel misrepresented potential sentencing outcomes and failed to explore my family's interference—which counsel mischaracterized as irrelevant—depriving me of a knowing and voluntary plea.
- Counsel used my father as a tool to force me into a plea bargain that I did not want to take. He witnessed my father threaten me with eviction if I did not comply, stating that he could not afford to pay more to go to trial.
- Counsel stated that if I took my case to trial all the witness would lie, and I would get convicted and sentenced to twenty-five years in prison.
- Counsel said that the DA made an off-the-record statement saying that he knew I was not guilty of anything I was accused of.
- Counsel did not investigate digital forensic anomalies, despite my explicit concerns raised in pre-conviction hearings.
- I took the plea in spite of my better judgement because I was confident that my Habeas Corpus 28 2241 filing was going to get my case immediately thrown out due to the large number of civil rights violations, judicial misconduct, and prosecutorial misconduct.
- I would not have relied only on my petition alone if not for the fact I have two disabled quaker parrots I adopted who rely on me for medication and care that I don't think anyone else would properly give and I was afraid to lose mine and my birds place to live.

6. Probation Officer's Violations of My ADA Rights

- Since my sentencing on February 18, 2025, the Fulton County Probation Department and Officer Shari Acquilla-Simon have imposed conditions that blatantly disregard my documented physical and psychiatric disabilities, in violation of the Americans with Disabilities Act.
- Despite being deemed disabled by the Social Security Administration at only 23 years old and receiving Supplemental Security Income, Officer Acquilla-Simon has repeatedly told me I am "not doing enough" and demanded that I seek employment. These comments directly contradict my medical limitations and fail to respect the binding nature of my federal disability status.
- I am required to attend weekly in-person probation meetings, which is more frequent than standard and creates a significant burden given my anxiety, lack of transportation, and reliance on an abusive family member for travel. Although I qualify for Medicaid transport, the service is unusable for me due to my mental health conditions.
- I am subjected to drug testing despite my conviction having no connection to substance use. I am already monitored through my medically supervised Suboxone program, which includes routine testing.

- On April 29, 2025, Officer Acquilla-Simon instructed me to seek new housing and discouraged the presence of my live-in caregiver—despite knowing he was a previously approved Freedom Care provider and remains essential to my medical and daily functioning. This created an immediate threat to my housing stability and well-being.
- My probation officer has also suggested that if the Department of Social Services could not help me relocate, I should consider entering a domestic violence shelter—even though I am not experiencing abuse at my residence. This suggestion was both inappropriate and destabilizing.
- I have been forced to undergo urinalysis under conditions that disregard my documented bladder issues and medication side effects. On one occasion, I was unable to urinate and was told I would be violated if I didn't return early the next morning by 9am. Although I complied while still sedated from my prescribed Thorazine, I was charged $30 for the test and given no documentation—despite later being told I tested positive for methamphetamine. I was never shown lab results and passed all subsequent third-party tests at St. Mary's Outpatient Clinic and Nathan Littauer Hospital.
- On May 13, 2025, Officer Acquilla-Simon told me I had failed for MDMA at St. Mary's, despite my counselor confirming that I had passed that test. She ordered another urinalysis that day, which caused me severe anxiety and bladder pain. I passed that test for everything except my prescribed medications, which are permitted under court order.

- I have experienced repeated early-morning home visits, even though my officer knows I take sedative medications and sleep late due to disability-related insomnia and pain. I was threatened with a violation for not answering the door—despite offering her contact with my parents next door, who have surveillance footage and did not see her arrive.
- After I left her a voicemail on a day I was sick from Suboxone withdrawal—caused by an online doctor sending the wrong prescription—she responded with a voicemail accusing me of selling or giving away my medication. I sent three faxes documenting the prescription error, the pickup delay, and photographic evidence from CVS and my prescribing doctor. Rather than acknowledging these documents, she escalated her threats. (Exhibit Q – Faxes Sent to Probation)
- Most recently, she has demanded that I enroll in Assertive Community Treatment (ACT), a program designed for individuals with severe psychiatric impairment. This would subject me to unnecessary clinical oversight and would seriously exacerbate my mental health conditions. (See Exhibit N)
- On May 9, 2025, I signed a self-employment plan with Access VR to restart my printing business using disability-based grant funding. Rather than support my effort toward independence, Officer Acquilla-Simon stated, "you're still not doing enough," and continued to pressure me with intensified supervision.
- I believe she is retaliating against me for asserting my rights and preparing and Americans With Disabilities Act (ADA) complaint. I have reason to believe my electronic devices were compromised in a prior cyberattack, as documented in my habeas corpus filing. I fear she may be attempting to have me jailed before this Court can hear my claims.

- These actions have caused me emotional distress, medical regression, housing instability, and significant interference with my federally protected rights. They reflect a pattern of disability discrimination and retaliation by a public entity and its official, in violation of Title II of the ADA and 42 U.S.C. § 12203.

Conclusion and Relief Requested

I respectfully submit that the evidence detailed above—both newly discovered and previously concealed—demonstrates compelling grounds for vacatur of my conviction pursuant to CPL § 440.10. Moreover, the ongoing constitutional violations I endure, including due process deprivation, ADA noncompliance, and interference with legal proceedings, require immediate judicial intervention. I request that the Court grant my motion, vacate the judgment, and order an evidentiary hearing on these matters.

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of New York that the foregoing is true and correct.

AFFIDAVIT OF CADERON TYRRELL

STATE OF NEW YORK

COUNTY OF FULTON

I, Caderon Tyrrell, being duly sworn, depose and say under penalty of perjury that the following is true to the best of my knowledge:

1. I am over the age of eighteen and reside in Johnstown, New York. I have personal knowledge of the facts stated in this affidavit and am competent to testify to them.
2. I have known Kayla Leigh Orsell for several years and am familiar with her medical, legal, and personal circumstances. I have witnessed the difficulties she has experienced due to her disabilities and the repeated denial of accommodations by public officials.
3. I was present when Kayla received certain certified mailings from the U.S. District Court, including ones that were already opened when she found them. These mailings were signed for by other individuals without her knowledge or consent. She had no idea the documents had arrived until I showed them to her, or she discovered them unexpectedly.
4. I have personal knowledge that her stepmother and father open court mail and other sensitive legal materials addressed to Kayla. Her father admitted in front of me that a postal worker signed for at least one certified letter in her stepmother's name.
5. I also witnessed Kayla's struggles with preparing and mailing her legal filings. Her phone, computer, and internet connection were frequently unstable, with missing files, unexplained reboots, and programs closing by themselves. These issues seemed to get worse whenever she was trying to finish court documents or send them out.

6. On or around October 15, 2024, I was driving Kayla's 2010 Volkswagen Jetta when the vehicle suddenly malfunctioned and crashed into a parked car. I had not used any drugs or alcohol, and I passed 2 out of 3 field sobriety tests despite having a broken nose and being in visible pain. I was arrested for DWAI without proper cause and was bleeding for an extended period before being taken for medical attention. I was forced to take a plea and lose my driving privileges for 90 days.
7. Kayla's father and grandfather arrived at the crash scene within minutes—without being called by me or anyone else. I felt intimidated by their presence, which discouraged me from going to the hospital. I later found out that Kayla's father claimed to have removed collision coverage just weeks before the crash—an unusual and suspicious decision.
8. I also believe Kayla's family has played a role in obstructing her access to her legal documents, transportation, and communications.
9. I have witnessed her probation officer, Shari Acquilla-Simon, treat her harshly and dismissively, refusing to honor her disability-based limitations. This treatment has worsened Kayla's mental and physical health and made it difficult for her to comply with her supervision without severe hardship.
10. I affirm that Kayla's legal filings are truthful and accurate to the best of my knowledge. I support her ADA complaint, her Rule 60(b) motion to reopen her habeas case, and her CPL § 440.10 motion in state court.
11. I respectfully urge the Court to consider the emotional, physical, and systemic harm she has endured, and to grant the relief she seeks in each of her proceedings.

FURTHER AFFIANT SAYETH NAUGHT.

AFFIDAVIT REGARDING DNA TAMPERING, MISATTRIBUTED PATERNITY, AND SUSPECTED FAMILY FRAUD

STATE OF NEW YORK
COUNTY OF FULTON

I, Kayla Leigh Orsell, being duly sworn, depose and say:

I am a resident of Johnstown, New York, residing at 81 ½ Chestnut Street. I submit this affidavit to document the suspected tampering of my DNA test results, concealment of my true paternity, and unlawful access to my legal documents during a period of incarceration.

1. In 2018, I submitted a DNA sample to Ancestry.com. After sharing with my family that I had discovered unexpected heritage and found no DNA matches, I was locked out of my account. I also lost access to the email address associated with that Ancestry account. In late 2024, I accessed Ancestry.com through a new account that does not have DNA data and confirmed that my original account still existed but continued to show no DNA matches. I called Ancestry customer service to regain access, and they informed me that someone had very recently deleted both my account, and the DNA data attached to it. To date, I do not have access to the original email account. Additionally, two individuals alleged to be my first cousins have submitted DNA to Ancestry, and neither of them match me genetically.

2.. In 2023, I submitted a DNA sample to MyHeritage. Subsequently, a second DNA profile appeared marked as "Self / Identical Twin," matching mine at 99.4%. I never submitted a second sample and have no known identical twin.

3. I believe my raw DNA file was cloned or manipulated and uploaded to another MyHeritage account to obscure my biological identity.

4. My short-form birth certificate lists Victor P. Orsell Sr. as my father, but I was told growing up that my father was Victor Orsell Jr. This discrepancy, combined with DNA results and record inconsistencies, suggests I may have been adopted, or paternity was falsified.

5. While I was incarcerated between 2013 and 2015, someone obtained a certified copy of my birth certificate in 2014. I suspect this was done to gain unauthorized control over benefits, guardianship, or identity-related legal matters.

6. My family lives at 81 Chestnut Street, adjacent to my residence. I believe they have tampered with my mail and obstructed my efforts to access DNA results and family records to conceal my true paternity and financial claims.

7. I uploaded my DNA to GEDmatch and have been using forensic tools to detect hidden relatives and identify altered segment data.

8. I submitted FOIL requests to NYS Department of Health, Fulton County Clerk, and Surrogate's Court to determine if unauthorized legal filings—such as guardianship or power of attorney—were created during my incarceration.

I make this sworn statement to preserve my legal identity, pursue rightful access to records and property, and expose any effort to suppress evidence of my true lineage and inheritance rights.
